LabConnect Named to Hall of Fame for Being One of Washington's Most Consistent High-Growth Companies

Seattle, Nov. 7, 2017 — LabConnect, LLC, a leading global provider of central laboratory and support services, has been inducted to the Puget Sound Business Journal's Hall of Fame for being named for the 10th time to the journal's 100 Fastest-Growing Private Companies list. LabConnect has appeared on the list more times than any other company at the inductee ceremony – the next closest has appeared on the list seven times.

The Puget Sound Business Journal covers business in the Seattle area and ranks independent, privately held corporations in Washington by annual revenue growth. Only those with the largest increases make the list. Inclusion on the list for 10 years demonstrates that LabConnect is consistently among the most stable and successful companies in the Pacific Northwest.

"Being on this prestigious list 10 times and being inducted to the Hall of Fame is certainly an accomplishment for the LabConnect team and an honor that must be shared with our clients," said Eric Hayashi, CEO of LabConnect. "We continually look for ways to support our clients with innovative services that will benefit them and help us grow and improve."
